LUCIE KAAS

Our inspiration

We believe your home is yours and no one else's. We believe that personality is the most essential element to building a base and place that is uniquely yours.

Lucie Kaas has an eye for understated design that draws its influence from multiple sources crossing fashion, music, art, pop culture and interiors.

We collaborate selectively with designers, brands & celebrities whose identities fit our value set. We believe in the power of design to communicate, inform, and influence our decisions and want to create products that make you think.

Lucie Kaas was founded in 2012 by Esben & Ellora Rasmussen. With the duo's different backgrounds, they believe that though physically located in Copenhagen, Lucie Kaas could be from anywhere in the world.

MILK

With MILK, tableware has never been more delicious. The material of the series, opal glass, is known for its 'foggy' look, giving it a milk-ish touch, hence the name for the collection. The range of colours invites to experiment with different combinations dictated only by creativity and moods.

Paipa

Design by Esben Gravlev

The arch that inspires Paipa has roots in Roman architecture and is a structure that has been admired by generations of architects. What would seem like a collapsible anatomy is defied by the arch and perhaps why it seems majestic. The arch has inspired many of the world's best-known monuments and is also an element present in Samoan architecture, where the inspiration for the name Paipa has come to life as a direct translation of tube in the native language.

Fumario

Design by Christian Troels

The Fumario series merge geometric shapes together with industrial design. The series can be used just as it is or as small pieces of art for the home.
